

Spring Forward Daylight Saving Time for 2007+

DSC-02-1011 Rev A, 03/03/08

The 2 a.m. hour is skipped, which makes this a 23-hour day, so the schedule for this day must accommodate the skipped events in the 2 a.m. format. Depending on how you accomplish your AVAir scheduling, your music and commercial scheduling systems may also have to be modified to accommodate this change.

At 2 a.m. on the second Sunday in March, the time on your AudioVAULT System will need to turn forward one hour, marking the beginning of Daylight Saving Time (DST).

From 1986 to 2006 DST has been from the first Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October, but starting in 2007, it will be observed from the second Sunday in March to the first Sunday in November, adding about a month to daylight saving time.

For AVAir

Anytime after the 2:00 a.m. time change, the system can be set forward one hour automatically by Windows or manually by an operator. If done automatically the 2AM hour should not exist. If manually, the time at which you plan adjusting time will dictate other programming changes. Specifically, if you rely on updates to offset over programmed hours, they will not work until you manually change the time, UNLESS the update end times are altered to account for the time change.

For AVSat

The 2 a.m. hour should not exist in the Playlist. Adjustments may also need to be made to the Control playlist. Aligns can be scheduled normally beginning with the 3 a.m. hour. This will take care of the scheduling issues.
